Subject: Progress Report – STEMInAction Takes Shape

Dear readers,

We're thrilled to share the latest progress on STEMInAction, our collaborative venture aimed at reshaping STEM education. Over the past months, our dedicated teams from across Europe have been hard at work, laying the foundation for transformative change.

Highlights include successful Learning, Teaching, and Training activities (LTTs) in Ireland and Germany, focusing on video creation, STEM curriculum development, and the exchange of best practices. Our dedicated educators and technical staff have received valuable training, setting the stage for the next phases of the project.

As we forge ahead, the excitement builds. Be part of our journey as we continue to empower educators and inspire the STEM leaders of tomorrow.

Best regards,

STEMInAction Germany team
